

Designing for Organisational Resilience

Developing the capacities to respond successfully to growing instability, complexity & resource constraints

The service

---

This workshop will greatly strengthen the capabilities of individuals, teams and your entire organisation to respond to the accelerating levels of instability, complexity and resource constraints of our world.

We explore the concept of resilience and complex adaptive systems theory, showing how these often abstract ideas are of major practical relevance when intelligently applied. We help you understand your current levels of resilience, and how your capabilities may be strengthened in order to achieve your vision of a successful, thriving business or organisation in an unpredictable future.

The delivery

Our practitioners will work with you to tailor the workshop, which is then delivered over 1-2 days.

The benefits

---

You will understand how resilience emerges, where it comes from and why it's so important for the future success of organisations and businesses, as well as communities. You will also see why an approach to developing resilience is not yet another quick-fix or one-size-fits-all solution.

You will begin to formulate your own resilience-building strategy and understand what steps to take. The resilience concepts introduced will be in the context of energy and resource-related issues, but are applicable to any challenges being faced by your organisation both today and tomorrow.

Who is this for?

This service is aimed at those who set the strategic direction of your organisation.
